

I am writing in support of a denial of BellSouth's petition to stop leasing the DSL portion of phone lines to independent service providers. Competition is vital to this industry. Consumers need choices. Telephone company offerings have in recent years have limited their offerings and also built packages that include unwanted partner software. (See PacBell & Yahoo)
For those of us interested in a clean, simple fast connection at a low cost from a trusted provider, it is necessary to have choices!!!